Even if you don't plan on biking to work, you certainly share the road with people that do. New bike infrastructure like cycle-tracks, green paint, roundabouts, and buffered bike lanes are being installed across the county. And whether you get to work on two wheels or four, join us to learn more about how cars and bikes safely interact on the road.

Topics include:

- How cyclists think and move on the roads
- Best practices for car drivers sharing the road with cyclists
- Laws regarding right-of-way, lane positioning, and passing
